As Adapted and Adopted by F.U.S.T.A.

In this code, “participants” shall mean dancers, teachers, judges, parents, competition officials and organizers.

GENERAL BEHAVIOR

- Participants will not engage in behavior which undermines the status and esteem of highland dancing.
- Participants will maintain a high standard of personal behavior with respect to dress, punctuality, preparation and contact with other participants.
- Participants will recognize the authority of judges and other officials and treat them with courtesy.
- Participants will treat all other participants with respect, whether successful in competition or not.
- Participants will not discriminate between other participants on the grounds of sex, ethnic background, religion or ability.
- Dancers will not be exposed to adverse public criticism.
- Participants should respect the competence of teachers and judges and should not engage in public criticism.

WELL BEING OF DANCERS

- Participants will seek to ensure the well being of the dancer at all times.
- In particular, teachers will provide planned programs of preparation and competition for all dancers. Their implementation will recognize the safety and well being of the dancer and participants will recognize that the health of the dancer is always more important than competition results.
- Dancers should be encouraged to treat other dancers with respect, whether successful in competition or not and to honor the rules of the competition.

TEACHERS

- Teachers will recognize a duty of confidentiality in their relationships with dancers.
- Teachers will not compromise dancers by advocating an unfair advantage or by seeking to persuade them to change teachers.
